

MEDIATION AGREEMENT

DATED:

This is an Agreement between [Party 1] and [Party 2] (the Parties), and Thilan Legierse (the Mediator), to participate in mediation with the intention of resolving the issues between them.

The Parties and the Mediator agree as follows:

1. Nature of Mediation

The Parties appoint Thilan Legierse as mediator.

Mediation is a voluntary, confidential process in which the Mediator assists the Parties in communicating, clarifying issues, and exploring options with the aim of reaching their own agreement.

The Mediator is independent and impartial, does not take sides, and does not make decisions for the Parties.

2. Voluntary Participation

The Parties confirm their intention to participate in the mediation in good faith.

Any Party may withdraw from or suspend the mediation at any time.

The Mediator may suspend or terminate the mediation if she reasonably considers that:

The process is no longer productive.

An impasse has been reached; or

She is unable to continue to act impartially or appropriately in her role.

3. Confidentiality

The mediation process is confidential.

Subject to any legal obligations, the Parties agree that:

discussions during mediation will not be disclosed to others without agreement; and the Mediator will not be called to give evidence or produce documents relating to the mediation.

The Mediator may meet privately with any Party. Unless otherwise agreed, information shared in private sessions will remain confidential.

Confidentiality does not apply where disclosure is required by law, or where there is a serious and imminent risk to a person's health or safety.

4. Role of the Mediator

The Mediator does not provide legal advice and does not determine the outcome of the mediation.

Any agreement reached is made voluntarily by the Parties, who are responsible for its content and implementation.
